As a general guideline, applications should be sent in as soon as possible (preferably during the contract negotiation phase), or at the latest before the risk commences.

Applications for standard transactions must be received by SERV at least seven calendar days before the meeting (ten working days). This also applies to applications that have a valid insurance commitment in principle where the underlying circumstances have not changed in a material way.

For applications entailing more extensive review work and costs, (e.g. private buyer risk insurance or where guarantors not yet known to SERV are involved, an additional one to four weeks' processing time may be required. Decisions on applications can be reached more rapidly, if applicants enclose with their application all supplementary information and documentation required for the review process.

Your attention is drawn to the fact that applicants are not entitled to demand that an application be decided at a specific meeting date.
